Dates to Remember

March 11: Artist of the Month

Reception 4-7pm

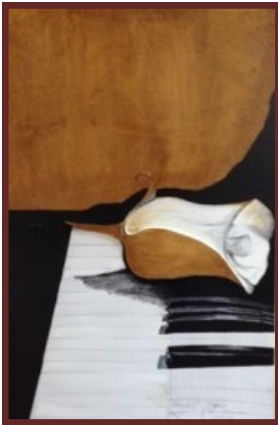

Roosevelt Warren

Roosevelt Warren was born in the small town of Alton, Illinois, which is located 20 minutes west of St. Louis. He is the 6th of 8 children. His father worked in the steel mills of Illinois and his mother was a homemaker. His parents were strict, but fair. They were both very supportive of all their children, and Roosevelt is a product of their love, encouragement, and their strong sense of family.

Roosevelt really began the exploration of his artistic abilities in his high school years. He discovered his innate abilities while attending art classes at American High School in Fremont, California. Roosevelt spent the last 25 years working at his skill in fine art. He has always enjoyed the arts in many forms; however his personal joy is working in pencil sketching and acrylic painting.

Roosevelt knew from the time he was a child at Dunbar elementary school in Alton, Illinois until today, his love of creating art. Now he shares his art as a professional artist with the same passion he had as a child.

His subject's range from men, women, and children in early America to present day, and he also enjoys focusing on African subjects. Nevertheless, his art is not limited to these subjects. He enjoys abstract and a host of other subjects. Roosevelt's medium includes wood work and various other materials.

March 9: Demo artist, 3-5 pm

Raoul Mora

The next session will be a continuation of subject matter from the beginning session in 2016. Please bring anything you have previously been working on. Getting back to SAL's roots which started as a critique group, we will reinstate what was known as The Third Eye by Gail Hazard who was our President from 1960-1962. This was a meeting of members wherein they would bring a painting they were working on or recently completed and have the group go over it to see if there were any improvements that could be made. Serious art students will tell you that many times you learn more at critiques than sometimes doing.

Raoul will conduct the critique at the near end of our drawing session, so bring in one piece of your recent work as well as a pencil and paper for the drawing portion.
